

Catherine "Kay" Yameen

January 1, 1

After raising her family, she enjoyed volunteering with the Ladies of Merrimack, Northern Essex Community College and the North Andover and Andover Garden Clubs, but most of all, she enjoyed her family and many friends who provided such courage and support through her illness.

She is also survived by sons-in-law, Michael Wallace, Todd Brown and Peter Ash and daughter-in-law, Eileen Yameen; grandchildren, Kenneth, Christopher, Nicholas and Paul Wallace, Daniel and Catherine Yameen, Christian and Kendra Brown; sister-in-law, Joyce Maroun, Mabel Paolino and Elaine Yameen; brothers-in-law, Joseph Maroun, Thomas Yameen and his companion Kathy Timmons; and many nieces and nephews. “ I have the fondest of memories of Kay. She was always the model of graciousness and selflessness. She and Ken's 60 years of marriage was a wonderful gift to all of us and a tremendous example of what the Sacrament is. I was privileged to speak with her four days before she died. Her sense of faith was extremely evident in our conversation. Be assured of my prayers and remembrances for Kay and all the Yameens.

“ To Ken and his amazing family,
Our thoughts and prayers are with you during this difficult time of the loss of your beloved Kay. Our hearts are sad and broken. She was not only a friend to me but more like a sister and so loving and caring to us that she was Auntie Kay to Marie and Carol. Our memories of Kay fill our hearts with love and will last a lifetime.
All our love,
Mary and family
